The bay fronts the city, while in the rear the table mountains rise as a barrier to egress in that direction, and in plain view is another peak called the "Lion's Head." The inhabitants, like those of California, are from every quarter, and the Mahys here are like the Chinamen to the City of the Golden Gate. ATTEMPTED ELOPEMENT-A BUNGLING AF-FAIR-BIG SENSATION-A DETERMINED BUT DISAPPOINTED LOVER.

TAZEWELL COURTHOUSE, VA., January 6, 1878. This morning (Sunday) our town was thrown into a state of wild excitement by novel because of the unusual hour at which it was enacted, and sensational on account of the daring boldness of the swain who thus sought to quell the consuming passion that Cupid had kindled in his susceptible

The parties to this affaire d'amour are Mr. Henry White, of Russell, and Miss Liza Steele, of this county, a beautiful young pupil in the Tazewell High School. Miss Steele spent the Christmas at her home, and it is thought an elopement was then planned. Sunday morning about 2 o'clock Mr. White arrived here, leading a horse equipped with a side-saddle, and put up at Dodd's Hotel. Some time during the morning a negro was bribed to convey a satchel containing the schoolhouse to the hotel. But when the congregation was dismissed and the Professor was on his way to the school-building with his charge he was confronted by the intrepid lover, who insisted upon then and there, in broad daylight, bearing off the coveted prize. The Professor was equally determined on retaining possession of her, and during the dispute which followed the street rapidly filled with MANCHESTER BONDS. eager and excited witnesses of the novel, amusing, and somewhat ridiculous scene. The persistent pluck and determination efforts of his opponents in their endeavors to get the young lady into the house and out of sight of the curious throng was worthy of all admiration, which he doubtless re-

Finally the Board of Trustees took the matter in hand; and through the persuasion of friends the would-be Benedict was induced to go in and "talk the matter over." While they were talking the mattar over Professor Evans sought a magistrate and had a warrant issued for Mr. White's arrest, which, however, was not used, as the matter was otherwise arranged, for the time being, at least.

At the present writing the young lady is under close surveillance, and a message has been dispatched for her father, while the disappointed lover, rumor says, is planning to carry her off under cover of darkness.
